FBI-King Section 73 Serials 5351-5396 49 docs., 191pp

5357 despite the number of times the name of Agent Robert Fitzpatrick has appeared Goble withheld it under 7C as the worksheets show-even when this reports the service of a court summons on him for Jensen, attached.

5358 3 pp ref. DeJ.

5367 Leonard Rubin was public information Services officer for Look Magazine. He sent the FBI tearsheets of the second look piece by Huie, signinging his name and function. Goble withheld under an alleged claim to privacy.

5375 although James Squires' name has appeared often enough prior to this serial, with the full account of the fake calls to and from the faker Giesebrecht, and although Squires' article was written and then picked up by AP and he co-authored a book on the case, Gible claimed the privacy exemption for withholding his name, the claim not eliminated when the name was written back in.

5377 # 2 pp unidentified report withhild 7D.

5379 throughout the already-released and publicly-known names of agents who figured publicly in this case and as professional expert court witnesses as well as though of witnesses were withheld under 7C, the claim not withdrawn when the names were written in.

5383 In reporting what was well reported in the papers, the filing of a petition in court, Goble has withheld the name of the petitioner, the claim tp 7C remining on the worksheets.

5384 is Foreman corres. 5385,too

5386 reports surveillance on Ray, including intrusions into his legal rights and defense. The name os the source, the sheriff, was originally withhle, but not under 7D-under the privacy claim, which is not withdrawn. There is no privacy question. Suppression of the embarrassing is a more likely explanation.

5387 claims exemptions b2,7(C)&(D). It is impossible to distinguish which claim is attributed to any one withholding and thus to contest any one.
Begins with resume strike history, leaders, etc.
The names of reporters for the local papers, who signed their stories, withheld, as also date apparently is.
Possibility Sarter is one of withheld names when all t is us publicly known if him.
1st LHM definitely Sarter and McFarrne, all available and in indexed books. Published widely.
The name of the produce compant is Liverto (phon). SAC Jensen also discussed all of this personally with the press at the time. First publication in TIME, included in Frame-Up.
Some of this material from informers coincides with some of my information, uncorroborated.
The address of the Pontotoc Hotel is given asx as 69 West Pontotoc t. I remember it as having a front on S. Main. I may have this confused with the Chickasaw (approx) probably do.
Sarter's name withheld on 28, public knowledge. 29, Sarter did drink this way and in the end the marriage broke up.
30 Ed Redditt's name is withheld. More than once, also that of Richmond, both public as far back as Frame-Up. Their purpose was to spy on Invaders, it says here. Known Invaders at Lorraine. 31 Black firemen transferred for security of black police intelligence offic ers. The withheld names of the black firemen have been known since the time of the crime, published often. Here it also says that the McClellan committee was the reason for the Redditt removal, by a phone call from D.C.
32 says Redditt and Richmond did not even have radio equipment.
First page says what could be assumed, OPR had this.
These records prove that Clarence Kelley was lied to by the MFO after Les Payne's story appeared of he lied to Les in his letter on exactly this.

5390 Giesebrecht's name withhled after not withheld, then restored without the claim to to both 7(C)&(D) being withdrawn. The other name masked is that of Jim Garrison. Even D can't apply as an only source. Earlier Serials give a full and deprecating account of all of this in The National Enquirer. Neither Giesebrecht nor Garrison could have been more public.

The offenses re 5387 are greater because on a deaf, dumb and blind agent who refuses to look at newspapers and television or listen to radios can be unaware that all this Redditt stuff was all over them long before these pages were reviewed. They are the basis for the establishing the House assassinations committee last September. If unfaithfully Lane has been all around the country in a very extensive promotional campaign with this the only substance in his book. These efforts of his, public efforts, are nine months old. He was on coast-to-coast TV, not counting newscasts, three times that I know of with these names. He also held many press conferences. On 6/7/77 in the National Press Bldg he went into all of this and apologized for Redditt's absence. He had even been announced as participating in that press conference.

Aside from the fact that I've had Sarter's files for years, all of that stuff and all the McFerren stuff in the same reports has long been public.
